ROYAL VICTOR WON THE DERBY ROYALLY

Farmer Bennett Pumped Himself Out and Lady Schorr Quit When Challenged.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Memphis, Tenn., April 8.-The Tennessee

Derby of 1901 is now a matter of turf hisory and the result was thoroughly in keeping with its past record, for it was a sur-

T. P. Hayes's Royal Victor, br. c., 3, by imp. Victorysena Royal, won, and John F. Schorr's orders to Jockey J. Woods cost him the derby.

The largest crowd that ever witnessed a race at Montgomery Park was at the track to-day, and the officials estimate that over 15,000 persons witnessed the running of the Delegations came from Chicago, St. Louis, Louisville, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Nash-ville and other points to view the race. A better-natured audience never gathered in one place before.

The derby was called at near 4 o'clock, and each candidate received a liberal share of applause as they cantered to the post. Early in the day John F. Schorr enveloped his positive starters in mystery.

Farmer Bennett was scratched from the first race, and Mr. Schorr intimated that he first race, and Mr. Schorr intimated from the would have four starters, but a knowing few knew that only Lady Schorr and Farmer Bennett would estart, and that the Schorrs were by no means aanguine of success. Alard Scheck did not show well in his former race, and Joe Frey had worked badly, and Lady Schorr was their sole dependence, with Farmer Bennett to set the pace as fast and as far as he could.

T. P. Hayes paid his starting fee late in the day, and said that he was starting for the $700 second money, and thought he could be no worse than second. George J. Long's coil. Gaheris, a strapping big 3-year-old, trained by Waiter Hopkins, was put up because he looked to have an outside chance. George C. Bennett started Monos on his last race, in which he finished second to Farmer Bennett. P. Tomlinson figured Queen Dixon to have a chance, and the filly completed the field.

How the Berby Was Run.

Mow the Berby Was Rum.

After a delay of twenty-three minutes at the post they were off to a good start, with Farmer Bennett going rapidly to the front. Passing the stand Lady Schorr was third, with her head swinging in the air. Farmer Bennett set the pace to the head of the stretch, with Lady Schorr second, with her mouth wide open, and it looked like a common gallop for her. Royal Victor, well placed and ridden, began to move up on the upper turn, and Farmer Bennett showed the effects of the pace and fell back beaten. The Hayes colt challenged Lady Schorr, and quicker than it takes to relate the filly died with her head swinging, and Royal Victor had won by a clear length of daylight between them, with Gaheris, Monos and Farmer Bennett bunched in the order named.

JENKINS PUT ROEBER'S SHOULDERS TO MAT.

Cleveland Wrestler Was Too Strong and Too Clever for German Champion.

THREE BOUTS NECESSARY.

Jenkius Won the Two Catchas-Catch-Can, While Roeber Took Middle Bout.

Tom Jenkins, the catch-as-catch-can wrestling champion of America, defeated Ernest Roeber, the Graeco-Roman champion of the world, in a mixed match at the Coliseum last night. Jenkins won the first bout, catch-as-catch-can style, in 25% minutes. Roeber threw Jenkins in the secon out, Graeco-Roman style, in 30 minutes and 40 seconds. According to the articles of agreement signed by both men, the winner of the shorter of the two bouts was to name the conditions of the third and last bout. Jenkins called for his own style, catch-as-catch-can, and promptly threw his man in 11 minutes and 45 seconds.

The most exciting bout of the three was the second, in which Roeber made a strong showing. The German was clearly at his best in this bout and had Jenkins on the defensive throughout. On the other hand, Jenkins did all the aggressive work in the other two bouts. Roeber adopted dilatory tactics in the first bout and did his best to prolong it. He let Jenkins do all the work and enver exerted himself much except when cornered. His defensive work in the catch-as-catch-can bouts was not near as interesting as Jenkins's defense in the Graeco-Roman bout.

As a rule, a Graeco-Roman wrestling contest is much tamer than a catch-as-catch-can bout, but it was just the opposite last night. Jenkins is entitled to the credit for this, as he put up a much better contest against Roeber at his own game than the latter did in the catch-as-catch-can bouts.

Jenkins appeared to be in the best shape out. Jenkins called for his own style, catch-

Jenkins appeared to be in the best shape.

Roeber looked hog fat, but he certainly did not wrestle like a man out of condition. His wind held out surprisingly well, considering the Alderman's paunch he carried around. This is the second time Jenkins has won from Roeber.

JENKINS BECOMES AGGRESSIVE. JENKINS BECOMES AGGRESSIVE.

Jenkins proved to be the aggressor throughtout the first bout, which lasted exactly twenty-five and a half minutes. Roeber went to the floor as soon as Jenkins closed on him. Jenkins then tried for a hammerlock, but the wily German cleverly slipped out of his grip. Jenkins next secured a haif. Nelson grip on Roeber, who wriggled out of it in a hurry. The Cleveland rolling-mill man, after a short rest, went after his man again like a tiger. The big crowd nearly falsed the roof when he an ace of downing him with a ham-clapped a half Nelson on him, but Roeber slipped from his grasp before he could put the business on him.

Roeber now came to the front for the first time in the match and undertook to do some wrestling himself, He grabbed a front waist hold over Jenkins's back, but Tom broke away in hurricane fashlon and threw the German to the floor. As soon as he got on the ground he tried a half Nelson, but it failed to stick. Next came the crotch hold that brought the bout to an end. When he stood Roeber on his head, Ernest twisted both his legs around Jenkins's body. This brought Jenkins down and left Roeber bridged with a scissors-lock hold on Jenkins. The latter then put all his weight on the Graeco-Roman champlon and gradually forced his shoulders to the mat. It took him about thirty or forty seconds to complete the job from the time he lifted Roeber's feet off the floor with the crotch hold.

Roeber Gains a Fall.

Roeber Gains a Fall.

Roeber Gains a Fall.

Roeber clapped a body hold on Jenkins as soon as they came together in the Graeco-Roman bout, and was squeezing Tom hard when the latter broke loose and went to his knees. Roeber dropped on him and grabbed a half Nelson. Jenkins turned and bridged out of it. Roeber refused to let him get away, however. He straddled his man and started to turn him over, but Tom twisted out of danger with one of his shoulders on the carpet. Roeber put a bar hold on him, but it falled to stick.

Proceedings then became very warm. First Roeber grabbed a half Nelson and Jenkins broke away and jumped to his feet. Roeber came up after him, and Jenkins tried for a strangle, getting one arm on his opponent's neck.

Roeber kept after his man in the most determined manner. Jenkins met him half way, and the German clapped two beautiful hammerlocks in succession. Jenkins was endeavoring to wriggle out of the second one, when Roeber slipped his left arm under Tom's right shoulder, which turned it into a perfect bar hold on back. Jenkins tried his best to get away from Roeber, but the harder he struggled the tighter Roeber held him, until, finally, he was compelled to give up. This bout lasted 30 minutes and 40 seconds.

COLTS ARE NEARLY BLANKED. Exhibition Game by Members

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Hot Springs, Ark., April 8.—A large crowd took advantage of the fine weather Monday to see the game of ball between the regulars and colts of the Pittsburg club. The latter were almost entirely shut out, the score at the end of the ninth inning bescore at the end of the minth iming being 8 to 1.

Phillippi and Chesbro were the pitchers during the entire game. Neither men let himself out. The infield work of the regulars was extremely good and double plays were numerous. Second baseman Richey, who arrived Monday, made one of his famous one-handed stops that elicited much applause. Wagner made a sensational running catch. At the beginning of the ninth inning a shut-out seemed inevitable for the colts. Smith led off and singled. Leach and Donahue each made a short single and Zimmer sent a long one to left, scoring Smith. Leach was run down between second and third. Poole made a single, and a long fly to Clark by Chesbro, retired the side.

CLEVER COACHING AIDS HIGH. Pears Is Pitching to the Schoolboys With Great Results.

Bright weather drew out large numbers of candidates for the various school base-ball teams Monday, with the exception of the Christian Brothers' College boys, who had a bollday. ball teams Monday, with the exception of the Christian Brothers' College boys, who had a holiday.

Frank Pears had the High School team working hard in Forest Park, and is taking a very practical method of developing team play and good batting, as Pears is not going to depend on any individualism to win games in the interscholastic series. The professional pitches to the candidates and when they reach the bases they are coached how to make the circuit and how to hit to aid the runner. This very seasible method is bearing fruit in making ball players out of several lads who have slight qualifications. The High School team is settling down and most of the positions have been won already.

Little Berkley is catching and will probably remain behind the bat. Weber, Kane and Morgner will do the pitching. Randall is certain to play his old position at the initial sack. Gruner, the "find" of this spring, has shown excellent work at second base, while a young lad named Smith is most likely to have the honor of doing stunts between second and third bags. The outfielders are by no means certain as yet as they will have to show good work at the bat to make sure of being planted in an outer garden permanently.

Pears's pitching, according to Jack Kane, captain of the team, is showing most remarkable results. Boys who were not only stepping away but jumping away from the veteran's delivery are now going right into it.

Washington University had fifteen men at Handlan's Park, but only the crudest kind of practice was indulged in. The St. Louis University boys were there, too, but under the careful eye of Mat Martin Delaney they only went through their routine work. Henry Jackson was the lone brave to remain in bounds at C. B. C. and practice. He put the shot for fully half an hour, but his style is all wrong and he will not have the ghost of a chance to win a point unless he develops the proper style very soon.

New York, April 8.-W. B. Carmichael, resident of the Australian Rowing Association, arrived here last week via San Francisco and Honolulu. The object of his visit international matches with an eight which he proposes to bring to America.

He will consult the leading rowing authorities of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, as well as pay some attention to weather conditions, dates and minor details of our principal regattas.

He will also investigate the newest wrinkles in oars, boats and rigging, and, although he is of the opinion that we have nothing new to offer in this line, Mr. Carmichael is going to see for himself.

As to the possibility of Australia sending a crew here, there seems to be not the least doubt in the mind of Mr. Carmichael.
